To whom it may concern:

What are you thinking? By giving LPFM translators priority over FM translator service you are placing one of America's best radio services in jeopardy.

Our family supports and listens to K-LOVE, a national FM translator service every day, for hours at a time. It is a Christian radio station. NEVER do I have to be concerned that anything other than wholesome music and encouragement will be broadcast over the waves of K-LOVE. Youth listen to the positive music aired by K-LOVE and are taught values like honesty and integrity through the music they hear. Parents are encouraged in positive parenting methods. Families are bonded when listening to music the whole family enjoys. On K-LOVE there is something for everyone! Even two year olds sing about goodness and kindness!

Now, I am more than concerned, I am outraged to think that the FCC would even consider compromising the positive effects of K-LOVE in favor of a LPFM which would never meet the standards K-LOVE has. America has so little we can be proud of in the way of entertainment. By securing the status of the FM translator, rather than offering LPFM translators priority, you will be protecting the most excellent radio service in our nation. Please do not place our FM signal at risk.

Sincerely,
Nena Mooney RN
